FIFTEEN CENTS

21 to 25-year-olds top Antioch DUI arrest list

by GLORIA DAVIS

The media has been running constant reminders of the vast increase in drunk driving highway mayhem in the Illinois-Wisconsin border area since Illinois raised its drinking age to 21 in 1980.

The influx of Illinois teens heading to bars in Wisconsin, where the legal drinking age is still 18, made traffic control in the border areas a whole new ball game.

But drunk driving arrest figures in the Village of Antioch tell a slightly different story, making stricter law enforcement against drivers from 21 to 25 years of age an apparent bigger drunk-driving deterrent.

According to figures from the records of the Antioch Police Dept., DUI arrests made in the village in the summer of '83 are at an all time high.

In June the Antioch Police arrested 24 on DUI charges; in July, 49, and in August, 57. The year's total DUI arrests to date are at 260.

In 1982, when the drinking age situation was the same, June brought about six DUI arrests; July, 28, and August, 26.

The increase of law enforcement is largely due to the implementation of approximately $46,000 from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation that pays for 20 extra man-hours (Continued on Page 6)

Noise at landfill site just cover-up sounds

by GLORIA DAVIS

Many of the residents of Little Silver Lake have expressed concern about hearing the sound of machinery in operation at the HOD Landfill site in Antioch.

Locked in a legal haggle with the Village of Antioch, the landfill has been closed and local refuse is being transported to the Waste Management landfill in Grayslake.

Wayne Ericksen reported that he had heard machinery going from early a.m. until late in the afternoon for the last few weeks.

Bob Loutsch, landfill manager, said that that was the sound of the final four-feet of land cover being put on the site.

Loutsch claimed that his machines were in operation daily doing that job, from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

In answer to the question of any dumping presently taking place, Loutsch said, "We (Continued on Page 2)

Some other local residents have reported that trucks, especially tanker trucks had been seen going into the site late at night.

"That's impossible, I have the only key, I have seen none of this. If anyone was dumping here late at night they would have to tear the gate down," Loutsche answered.

The soil erosion hearing on Waste Management's request for 227,000 cubic yards of soil to be used at the site if they get the vertical expansion permit, the request for which is also bouncing around the courts, will be continued in front of the Lake County Board of Appeals, at the Lake County Building in Waukegan, at 9:30 a.m., on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

RTA considers Antioch bus routes in future

Antioch residents may someday be able to take a Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) bus to Lakehurst Shopping Center from the village if any of the long range plans of the RTA ever go into effect.

After the closing of some of the least traveled routes, plans include routes from Antioch to the Fox Lake train station and from Antioch to the College of Lake County in Grayslake as well as the Grayslake Milwaukee Rd. train station as being among RTA's future possibilities.

But to date all this is on some futuristic drawing board.

Mayor Ray Toft who is in the RTA Committee of the Mayor's Council said that a report on any progress presently being made on these plans might be aired at a meeting of the RTA Board on Sept. 8, at the Gurnee Village Hall.

Any Antioch routes are just a few of the many Lake County alternative routes in the hopper.

Toft seemed to think that these new routes have little chance of getting past Mundelein.

Hunt to face 11 charges

A preliminary hearing has been set for Wednesday, Sept. 7, in front of Lake County Circuit Court Judge Charles Scott for Robert F. Hunt, 27, Antioch, on 11 charges, including that of attacking a Lake Villa Police Officer.

Hunt allegedly was driving at speeds of 80 miles per hour, north on Rte. 83 in Lake Villa, drag racing at 1:45 a.m., on August 26.

He was chased by Lake Villa Police Officer William Sechovec to his home on Loon Lake Rd. in Antioch where he told the officer "to get off of my property."

When the officer tried to arrest him, Hunt allegedly grabbed him around the neck, attempting to pull his gun from its holster.

The policeman hit Hunt with his night stick whereupon Hunt ran into his house after pushing the pursuing officer off of the front porch, knocking him through the porch railing.

When Hunt locked himself in the house, the officer called Antioch and Lake County for assistance.

Hunt's father unlocked the door, letting the police enter and arrest his son.

Hunt faces charges of aggravated battery, resisting arrest, theft, and eight traffic violations.

Haley set for trial Sept. 12

The trials of William Haley, Antioch, and James Amoroso, McHenry, on charges of marijuana trafficking in West Palm Beach, Fla. in 1981, are up again for calendar call at 9:30 a.m., on Friday, Sept. 9, in the West Palm Beach Circuit Court.

If both attorneys are ready to go on this case that has been up for calendar call a many times since the two were arrested and charged with smuggling $476,000 worth of marijuana in April of 1981, the trial is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 12.

The last few continuances have been granted to allow the defense to get additional depositions.

The presiding judge will be Judge Richard Burk. Assistance States Atty. Michael Morgan will prosecute the cases and William Butkler is the defense attorney for Haley.

Drug authorities confiscated a plane belonging to William Zeigler, Round Lake, and the controlled substance on board at the West Palm Beach Airport. The pilots of the plane implicated Haley, saying he paid them to deliver the marijuana.

Lake Catherine aeration proves to be successful

The Lake County Health Dept. has determined that an aeration device installed in Lake Catherine in 1978 by the Illinois State Water Survey has been beneficial to the lake's water quality.

The findings are contained in a report entitled "Aeration and Destratification in Lake Catherine: A Report of the Fourth Year Operation," which was prepared by the Environmental Health Division of the Lake County Health Dept.

Since 1981, the Health Dept. has assumed responsibility for field sampling, water analysis and ensured day-to-day operations of the unit.

"We are pleased that the staff of the Health Dept. has generated this high quality technical report, and that the results of the report were positive. Lake County residents can be assured that this project was a success," Steven Potsic, M.D., executive director, said.

Copies of the report, which contain conclusions and recommendations, can be obtained from the Lake County Health Dept. by calling (312) 689-6740.

When I think about it

Feels fascinating fall sometimes falls flat

by GLORIA DAVIS

The autumn months are fast approaching. Everyone from artists, to poets, to songwriters, has eulogized the fascinating fantasia of fall.

From the crimson carpeted forests to the golden hued farmlands, the season's beauty has long been acclaimed.

From its fresh crisp winds to its fiery full-moons, fall's moods have been lauded.

Now I'm one of the season's biggest fans. Being a Scorpio, I love its erraticness, ranging from the morose loneliness of a barren tree to the gleeful shouts of tiny masked Halloweeners.

Another reason for this seasonal partiality is that it annually means a birthday celebration in November that heralds a special dinner that I don't have to cook and a stack of brightly wrapped mysterious packages, all bearing my name.

Having reached the many digitized age of no return, I guess I should join the myriad of people that chose to ignore birthdays, but the kid in me that loves birthday cake (even if it isn't low cal) and opening presents overrides wrinkled vanity.

But fall and its facets is not all ice cream and cake. For instance, remember the way poets of old romanticized a walk in the woods accompanied only by the melodious sound of the crunch of leaves underfoot?

In 1983, a walk in the woods or park better be accompanied by more than crunchy leaves unless the possibility of being mugged sounds romantic to you.

And those lovely crunchy leaves are not all they're purported to be! It takes lots of physical work to rake them up if they happen to be on your lawn, if you don't want to see all that money spent on "Turf Builder" last spring wiped away in the balmy fall breezes.

Underfoot leave crunching should also be done with care since dampness means slippery and, besides covering your lawn, they can also cover ankle breaking trenches.

Fall means the invasion of my house by millions of fat flies and tiny field mice chased indoors by that wonderful crisp air.

I used to love Halloween when it meant the fun of costuming my own children in odds and ends that added-up to a colorful gypsy or a fierce pirate in his mom's hoop earrings. I couldn't stand those "store-boughten" cheesecloth costumes then and I really can't abide them now.

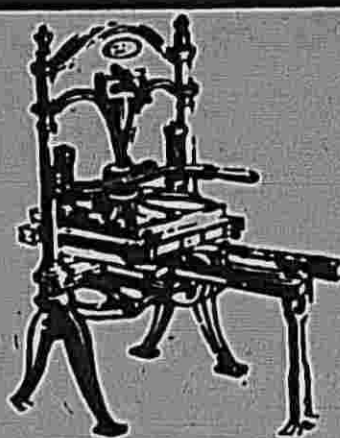

Remember when trick or treat meant approaching neighbors and friends, trying to scare them and coming away with a homemade taffy apple or doughnut?

Halloween '83, besides being a movie terror series, means worrying about your kids getting straight pins or razors in their treats, or hit by speeding cars in the usual hazy fog and drizzle, and spending a bundle on expensive pre-wrapped and sealed junk candy for other trick or treaters that sometimes arrive at your door from miles away by the busload.

Fall means seasonal housecleaning to many housewives. This is where I become a champion of freedom of choice by choosing to eliminate the phrase "fall housecleaning" from my vocabulary.

And no matter how I try filling my head with warm pictures of groups singing around an autumn campfire after a hayride, visions of approaching ice covered roads and the shoveling of mounds of snow continue to dance across the frosty windows of my mind.

Admittedly, fall is probably the prettiest of seasons in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, and it seems like I'm a displaced Thanksgiving Scrooge. So far be it from me to further disparage the merits of autumn, but you must agree that fall isn't always the berries (even dried ones) and its acorns are not always what they are cracked-up to be.

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: Sept. 7, 1933

A summer cottage belonging to Mrs. Ruth Anderson burned to the ground over the weekend. The loss was estimated by Fireman Sam Tarbell at $700.

The owner of Williams Store had a three-year-old alligator, caught in Florida, mounted and placed in the store window.

In a drive on hoodlums, George (Bugs) Moran was listed as one of 60 most wanted criminals by Lake County States Atty. Charles Mason.

Almost all the businesses in Antioch signed the Presidents Re-Employment Agreement in hopes of putting the thousands of unemployed back to work.

Round, Swiss or rump steak was going for 15 cents per pound at the National Food Store.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: Sept. 10, 1933

Flames that spread from a neighbor's burning garbage pile destroyed the garage of Marcel Kulp.

Construction was started on a baseball diamond for Little Leaguers at the Antioch Municipal Park.

The Lake County Board was trying to sell county residents on the need for a higher county tax rate in the face of an upcoming referendum on the subject.

Resort owners on the Chain O'Lakes reported excellent summer business.

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis were playing in "The Stooge" at the local drive-in.

TEN YEARS AGO: Sept. 12, 1973

Tom Santino's suit against the Lake County Board of Supervisors was dismissed. An action that blocked the planned unit development at the Antioch Country Club.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce had begun implementing a beautification plan for Antioch's business district. The plan included the addition of trees on Lake, Main and Orchard Sts., modernization of store fronts and the removal of overhanging neon signs.

The Millburn Congregational Church burned its mortgage and held retirement ceremonies to honor Rev. Lauren and Mrs. Messersmith.

The Antioch Sequoias dropped the season's football opener when they bowed to Round Lake, 14-6.

Furlan's to host ball

Furlan's Dug Out Park in Trevor has a full schedule of softball tournaments planned during September.

teams class "B" and below with an entry fee of $100. There is a consolation division.

On Sept. 17-18 is the 12 Inch September Tournament for non-classic teams.

Entry fee is $80.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Does anyone know where I can get a Victoria Principle costume complete with like face and body? That's who old Annie Mae would like to masquerade as at the Fantasy Island Dinner Dance, sponsored by the Condell Hospital Auxiliary of the Medical Center of Lake County.

The big bash will be held from 4 p.m., on Sunday, Sept. 18, at the estate of Dr. and Mrs. Bellucci.

Here's hoping you and all of your loved ones returned safely and rested from the Labor Day holiday!

Mrs. E. E. Archambault wonders if maybe, "now that HOD has raised its rates to cover court costs etc., if they might think of giving senior citizens special garbage pick-up rates before they raise Dean Buntrock's $532,338 per annum salary."

Looks like we can always learn new things. I see that Dr. Alan L. Thain has just completed 150 hours of continuing education courses, enabling him to retain his active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Cadet Kevin Shepard, son of Walter and Beverly Shepard, has qualified for the commission of second lieutenant in the Active Army Reserve or National Guard after receiving practical work in military leadership at the U. S. Army R.O.T.C. Advanced Camp at Fort Riley, Ka.

He is attending the University of Missouri-Rolla in Rolla, Mo.

Did you know that Antioch resident and bird expert, Bill Bork, led a free bird walk on Sunday, Sept. 4, at the Ryerson Conservation Area in Lincolnshire?

Congrats to Patricia Cender who just received a bachelor of science degree in health arts at commencement ceremonies from the College of St. Francis, Joliet.

Now it's been confirmed! The summer of '83 was the second hottest on record, only being topped by those torrid temps in 1955.

That was frosting not snow flying around the State bank last Thursday as a sudo Japanese warrior sliced up Mortgage Loan Officer Bob Pirko's birthday cake with a Samurai sword.

Cops warn of poster scam

The Antioch Police Dept. warns businesses of current scam being perpetrated in Antioch.

The department received two reports, one on August 12 and the other on August 19 that a man had sold their businesses ads that were to appear on a large poster to be put into a local restaurant.

The ads were supposed to surround schedules of school sporting events and sold for $98.

After selling these ads the man seemed to vanish from the area and no poster has appeared.

Reportedly the man did ask a local restaurant if he could put a poster of this type up in that establishment and was refused.

He was going under the name of Earl Hoff, white, male, six feet, one inch in height, weighed over 200 pounds, wearing what appeared to be a black wig, he also appeared to be in his late 30's.

The police said that an Earl Hoff was wanted in the Schaumburg area for fraud.

somewhat advanced or well advanced.

of police patrol per week, sending seven of officers to drinking-driving schools and seminars, and court time spent by the officers.

Yet for anyone who doesn't think the difference in the two states' drinking age is a prime contributor to the drunk-driving problem, a look at the summer of '79's DUI arrests by the Antioch Police Dept. might change their minds.

The total DUI arrests for the summer of '79 were 10.

Police Chief Chuck Miller said that only about 20 percent of these DUI arrests are of people over 25 years of age. Another 20 percent are accounted for by kids under 21 years of age, which leaves 60 percent of the arrests in the 21 to 25 age category.

This might be accounted for by the fact that many new bars in Wisconsin, opened to appeal to the 18 to 21 age group, also outshine Illinois bars as far as the 21 to 25-year-olds are concerned.

Then again, males in the 21 to 25-year-old age category want to frequent bars where females in the 18 to 21-year-old category go.

One would expect the summer months to account for more of this type of arrest, but this year more DUI arrests were made in March than in June.

The hoatzin, a rare South American bird, has claws on its wings in addition to those on its feet. These claws help the young crawl about in trees.

There were at least 52 musicians in the family of famous composer Johann Sebastian Bach.

TEETH AND CHILDREN

Question: How can a parent inspire a child to take care of his/her own teeth properly?

Answer: Children love to imitate grownups, so it's best to set an example and have the child watch when you care for your own teeth. Also, if you have been diligent about attention to your youngster's mouth and teeth from infancy, using the basic rituals you use for yourself, the pattern will probably be established by the time he/she is old enough to care for his/her own mouth and teeth. Introducing disclosing agents to show children where they have not removed all the plaque also impresses them. After all, seeing live microorganisms massed on the teeth through this color medium, and knowing they can do great damage to the teeth/gums, is strong motivation to brush, floss, watch out for sweets etc. A homemade chart hung in the bathroom can show awards of gold, silver or colored stars for good dental hygiene performance—another way to motivate! And a dentist or pedodontist who explains all about teeth to a child can awaken genuine interest and concern about mouth care.
